Purchasing Guidelines for the Devereux Center for Resilient Children (DCRC)

The Devereux Center for Resilient children offers nationally standardized, valid and reliable screening and assessment tools to measure children’s resilience and social and emotional competence. Research-based strategies for families and child serving professionals (early childhood educators, case workers, teachers, after-school staff) are linked to assessment results so that plans for the home and group settings can be put into place to strengthen children’s resilience and social and emotional health.

All of the assessments are available in either print or web-based formats. Print resources are sold as complete kits or as individual items (see complete list on page 2). The web-based platforms offer the screening and assessment tools online as well as access to strategies for families and professionals. Programs using the web-based platforms may wish to purchase select print resources to enhance implementation, but this is not required. To learn more about the early childhood web-based platform, please visit www.e-DECA2.org. To learn more about the school-age web-based platform, please visit: <http://appersonel.azurewebsites.net/online-solutions/>

DCRC has two publishing partners --- Kaplan Early Learning Company is the publisher of the early childhood resources (Infant, Toddler, and Preschool) and Apperson is the publisher of the school-age resources (Kindergarten – High School). To place orders for the early childhood resources, please visit www.kaplanco.com or call (800) 334-2014. To place orders for school-age resources, please visit <http://www.apperson.com/k12/evo-social-emotional> or call (800) 827-9219.

To discuss questions about any of the DCRC resources, please contact the DCRC team at (866) 872-4687 or email us at dcrc@devereux.org
